Consolidated Financial Results

1. Business Review

(1) Business Environment

In the fiscal year ended March 31, 2019, the global economy generally maintained a stable growth trajectory amid continued stable expansion in developed economies, most notably the U.S., and a continued growth in emerging market economies such as China. However, the global economic outlook turned increasingly murky in late 2018 in the wake of financial market volatility, a slowdown in the Chinese economy and economic sluggishness in Europe against a backdrop of U.S.-China trade frictions compounded by a recognition that international financial conditions were tightening. In response, the pace of monetary tightening was revised, mainly in the U.S. Meanwhile, crude oil and other commodity prices fluctuated with respect to each commodity in response to supply - side factors and the effects of trade frictions, mainly between the U.S. and China.

The U.S. economic expansion continued against a backdrop of a solid employment environment and tax reform's stimulus effects. The Federal Reserve continued to raise its policy rate and reduce its asset holdings amid mild inflation. From October, however, U.S. equity markets turned downward in response to tighter financial conditions and trade frictions. From December into January, economic uncertainty was exacerbated by several factors, including financial market volatility and a partial government shutdown. In response, the Federal Reserve revised the pace of its monetary tightening.

The European economy also went through periods of heightened uncertainty due to fraught Brexit negotiations and consternation over Italy's fiscal policy, but it generally maintained a stable growth trajectory in the first half of the fiscal year. In late 2018, however, the ECB announced it would discontinue quantitative easing but keep its policy rate at an accommodative level amid a distinct deceleration in economic growth.

Emerging market economies generally continued to expand, though their growth was restrained by tighter international financial conditions and trade frictions, among other factors. Several emerging market currencies, most notably the Turkish lira and Argentine peso, depreciated precipitously in summer 2018. In the second half of the year, the Chinese economy slowed markedly, largely as a result of the U.S.-China trade conflict.

The Japanese economy continued to benefit from stable growth in both domestic and external demand amid continued improvement in employment, though inflationary pressures remained weak and a series of natural disaster in some areas dampened economic activity. Additionally, exports weakened from mid-2018 in response to tighter international financial conditions, trade frictions and global economic deceleration. The Japanese equity market continued to sell off into year-end and financial market volatility persisted into early January, but further deterioration in markets was averted by the Federal Reserve's policy pivot.

(2) Operating Results

Under the aforementioned business environment, consolidated operating results for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2019 are as follows:

(millions of yen)

	Fiscal year ended March 31,		Variance
	2018	2019
Revenue	7,540,337	7,401,256	(139,081)
Gross trading profit	677,237	729,675	52,438
Operating profit	118,054	173,009	54,955
Share of profits of associates and joint ventures	148,503	85,278	(63,225)
Profit attributable to owners of the parent	211,259	230,891	19,632

(Note 1)

Figures are rounded to the nearest million yen unless otherwise stated.

(Note 2)

"Operating profit" is presented in accordance with Japanese accounting practice for investors' convenience and is not required by IFRS. "Operating profit" is the sum of "Gross trading profit" and "Selling, general and administrative expenses" including "Provision for doubtful accounts".

Revenue

Revenue was down 139.1 billion yen (1.8%) year on year to 7,401.3 billion yen, due mainly to decreases in Chemical & Forest Products and Transportation & Industrial Machinery.

Gross trading profit

Gross trading profit increased 52.4 billion yen (7.7%) from the year-earlier period to 729.7 billion yen. By operating segment, profits increased mainly at Energy & Metals and Chemical & Forest Products.

Operating profit

Operating profit increased 55.0 billion yen (46.6%) from the year-earlier period to 173.0 billion yen.

Marubeni Corporation

Consolidated Financial Results

Share of profits of associates and joint ventures

Share of profits of associates and joint ventures decreased 63.2 billion yen (42.6%) from the year-earlier period to 85.3 billion yen. By operating segment, profits decreased mainly in Power Business & Plant and Food.

Profit attributable to owners of the parent

Profit attributable to owners of the parent for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2019 (also referred to as net profit for the year under review) increased 19.6 billion yen (9.3%) to 230.9 billion yen relative to the year-earlier period.

Results for each operating segment for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2019 are as follows:

Food

Gross trading profit increased 3.8 billion yen (2.8%) year on year to 139.0 billion yen, driven mainly by consolidation of a U.S. beef processing/sales subsidiary acquired in the previous fiscal year. Net profit for the year was down 45.4 billion yen (- %) year on year to 3.1 billion yen, due to an impairment loss from equity-method investment of grain exporting business in North America along with the fact that profit in the year-earlier period was boosted by U.S. tax reform.

Consumer Products

Gross trading profit increased 6.3 billion yen (5.4%) year on year to 123.6 billion yen, as a result of newly consolidation of a subsidiary that was previously an equity-method associate in the ICT business. Despite non-recurrence of a year-earlier gain on the sale of equity-method associate in the ICT business, net profit for the year increased 10.3 billion yen (38.2%) year on year to 37.3 billion yen, largely because of a valuation gain on a newly consolidated subsidiary that was previously an equity-method associate in the ICT business.

Chemical & Forest Products

Gross trading profit increased 23.1 billion yen (11.4%) year on year to 226.4 billion yen, boosted largely by profit growth in the pulp business due to higher market prices and improved margins in the containerboard business. Net profit for the year increased 9.7 billion yen (23.1%) year on year to 51.5 billion yen.

Marubeni Corporation

Consolidated Financial Results

Energy & Metals

Gross trading profit increased 28.4 billion yen (49.0%) year on year to 86.4 billion yen, largely as a result of production volume growth and higher price in the oil and gas development business and improved margins in the oil and gas trading business. Net profit for the year increased 45.9 billion yen (209.3%) year on year to 67.9 billion yen, largely due to increases in gross trading profit and share of profits of associates and joint ventures, as well as non-recurrence of a year-earlier decrease in income tax expense due to U.S. tax reform, which offset the impairment loss of assets on oil and gas development business and metal related business.

Power Business & Plant

Gross trading profit increased 5.6 billion yen (14.2%) year on year to 45.5 billion yen, largely by virtue of growth in profits from overseas plant business and the UK electricity wholesaling/retailing business. Net profit for the year decreased 8.1 billion yen (20.9%) year on year to 30.8 billion yen, largely as a result of impairment loss in investment of power generating business in Singapore which offset gains on the sale of a domestic power generating business coupled with non-recurrence of provision loss from overseas infrastructure projects of a year-earlier period.

Transportation & Industrial Machinery

Gross trading profit decreased 12.7 billion yen (9.6%) year on year to 118.8 billion yen, largely as a result of deconsolidation of a former consolidated subsidiary, now an equity-method associate, in an automotive business. Net profit for the year increased 11.0 billion yen (26.8%) year on year to 52.0 billion yen, boosted largely by a gain on the sale of a domestic power generation business and growth in profits from equity-method investments in automotive and ship-related businesses, as well as non-recurrence of a year-earlier loss from a North American automotive business.

(Note 1)

From the FYE 3/2019, "Food & Consumer Products" has been divided into "Food" and "Consumer Products". Parts of "Consumer Products" and "Power Business & Plant" have been incorporated into "Transportation & Industrial Machinery". In conjunction with these revisions, operating segment information for the year-earlier has been reclassified.

(Note 2)

Inter-segment transactions are generally priced in accordance with the prevailing market prices.

(3) Financial Position

(billions of yen)

	March 31, 2018	March 31, 2019	Variance
Total assets	6,877.1	6,809.1	(68.0)
Total equity	1,835.6	2,071.7	236.1
Net interest-bearing debt	1,915.8	1,858.8	(57.0)
Net D/E ratio (times)	1.04	0.90	-0.14 points

(Note 1)

Figures are rounded to the nearest hundred million yen unless otherwise stated.

(Note 2)

Net interest-bearing debt is calculated as cash and cash equivalents and time deposits subtracted from the sum of corporate bonds and current and noncurrent borrowings.

Total assets decreased 68.0 billion yen from the end of the previous fiscal year to 6,809.1 billion yen, due to a decrease in cash and cash equivalent which offset the increase from consolidation of a former equity method associate, now a consolidated subsidiary, increase in inventories. Net interest-bearing debt decreased 57.0 billion yen from the end of the previous fiscal year to 1,858.8 billion yen, due to the positive free cash flow which offset the impact on dividend payment, consolidation of a former equity method associate, now a consolidated subsidiary and foreign exchange rate.

Total equity increased 236.1 billion yen from the end of the previous fiscal year to 2,071.7 billion yen. Consequently, Net D/E ratio stood at 0.90 times.

(4) Cash Flows

Cash and cash equivalents at the end of the fiscal year under review were 509.3 billion yen, a decrease of 116.5 billion yen from the end of the previous fiscal year.

(Operating activities)

Net cash provided by operating activities was 284.9 billion yen due to operating revenue, dividend income and such, despite an increase in working capital and such.

(Investing activities)

Net cash provided by investing activities was 22.5 billion yen due to the inflow from sales of business and investment securities, despite the outflow of a capital expenditure in overseas businesses.

Marubeni Corporation

Consolidated Financial Results

As a result of the above-mentioned activities, free cash flow for the fiscal year under review was positive 307.4 billion yen.

(Financing activities)

Net cash used in financing activities amounted to an outflow of 427.4 billion yen as results of redemption of corporate bonds, repayment of long-term borrowings and dividend payment.

(5) Outlook for FYE 3/2020

With the global economy expected to slow in the fiscal year ending March 2020, the risk of economic headwinds intensifying in response to catalysts such as U.S.-China trade tensions, European political turmoil and deterioration in certain emerging market economies needs to be closely monitored.

In the U.S., personal consumption should hold firm but the economy will likely slow as tax cuts' stimulus effects fade. Europe's ongoing economic slowdown will likely continue amid domestic demand weakness partly caused by political turmoil and sluggishness in external demand due to the global economic slowdown. However, both the U.S. and Europe will likely be able to avert a severe slowdown by virtue of cautious monetary policy stewardship.

Among emerging market economies, China's economy is expected to continue to slow under the weight of financial regulation and U.S.-China trade frictions, but the Chinese government is expected to shore up the economy with fiscal stimulus. Other emerging market economies should no longer be restrained by tightening financial conditions but they will likely decelerate mildly in the wake of slower growth in developed countries and China.

Commodity prices will likely be generally stable, but downside risks to global economic growth and geopolitical risks have the potential to trigger commodity price volatility.

In Japan, the adverse economic impacts of a consumption tax hike scheduled to take effect in October 2019 are expected to be mitigated by fiscal stimulus measures, but with external demand likely to stagnate amid the global economic slowdown, the Japanese economy is expected to slow.

(6) Changes in Accounting Principles

Except for the changes disclosed below, significant accounting policies applied to the consolidated financial statements herein are identical to the accounting policies applied to consolidated financial statements for the previous fiscal year.

Newly Adopted Standards and Interpretive Guidance

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries have adopted the following accounting standards effective from the fiscal year ended March 31, 2019.

Standard and Interpretive Guidance	Summary
IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (revised July 2014)	Revisions concerning impairment accounting and classification and measurement of financial assets
IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers	Accounting treatment and disclosure concerning revenue recognition

Adoption of the above standards and interpretive guidance did not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements herein. The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries have recognized the cumulative effect of the above standards and interpretive guidance's adoption as an adjustment to retained earnings at the date of initial application.

Significant accounting policies related to the above standards and interpretive guidance are as follows.

IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (revised July 2014)

- Classification and Measurement of Financial Assets

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries measure debt instrument financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income if both of the following conditions are met. ("Debt instrument financial assets measured at FVTOCI")

Marubeni Corporation Financial Results

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is both to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and sell financial assets; and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial recognition, a debt instrument financial asset for which these conditions are satisfied is measured at fair value with any change in fair value recognised in other comprehensive income. The cumulative amount of the change in fair value recognised in other comprehensive income is recognised in other components of equity. However, interest arising from Debt instrument financial assets measured at FVTOCI is recognised as part of finance income (or expenses) in the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income. When Debt instrument financial assets measured at FVTOCI are derecognised of, the cumulative change in other comprehensive income shall be reclassified to profit or loss.

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries may, at initial recognition, make an irrevocable election to designate a debt instrument financial asset that meets the conditions for classification as measured at fair value through other comprehensive income mentioned above as debt-instrument financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (“Debt instrument financial assets measured at FVTPL”), if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

- Impairment Accounting

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries recognize impairment losses on expected credit losses for financial assets classified as debt instrument financial assets measured at amortized cost and Debt instrument financial assets measured at FVTOCI, etc.

If, at each reporting date, the credit risk on a financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries measure the allowance for doubtful accounts at an amount equal to the expected credit losses that result from default events possible within the 12 months after each reporting date. At each reporting date, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries measure the allowance for doubtful accounts at an amount equal to the expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the expected life of the financial instrument. (“lifetime expected credit losses”) if the credit risk on the financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition. However, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries always measure

Financial Results

the allowance for doubtful accounts at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses for accounts receivable, etc.

IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

With the exception of interest, dividend and other income recognized in accord with IFRS 9, Financial Instruments, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries recognize revenue based on the following five-step approach if it is probable that the entity will collect the consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for the goods or services that will be transferred to the customer.

Step 1: Identify the contract with customer

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract

Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

② New lawsuit

Sugar Group denied the validity of the finances provided for “Sugar Group” by Marubeni Corporation (“Marubeni” or “we” or “us”) and accompanying security interests which were confirmed by the Supreme Court of Indonesia on March 17, 2011*. In response, we filed a lawsuit against Sugar Group with Central Jakarta District Court, Indonesia, on April 26, 2017 to seek damages of approximately 1.6 billion US Dollars to, among others, the reputation of Marubeni caused by Sugar Group’s torts (“This Case”).

In response to our claim in This Case, on April 30, 2019 Sugar Group filed a counterclaim against Marubeni through the court procedure of This Case to seek damages of 7.75 billion US Dollars in the aggregate on the ground that Marubeni’s filing This Case itself allegedly constitutes our tort against Sugar Group companies (“Counterclaim”).

Marubeni will seek our claim in due course to obtain the judgment by the competent Indonesian court in Marubeni’s favor to admit our claim and to dismiss the Counterclaim by Sugar Group through the court procedure of This Case.

(*) Marubeni provided the finances for PT. Indolampung Perkasa and PT. Sweet Indolampung which belong to Sugar Group, an Indonesian corporate group, and required to repay such finances. However, Sugar Group (PT. Indolampung Perkasa, PT. Sweet Indolampung, PT. Gula Putih Mataram, PT. Indolampung Distillery and PT. Garuda Pancaarta) filed a lawsuit against dozens of defendants, including Marubeni as a creditor, alleging the invalidity of the finances provided by Marubeni and accompanying security interests and seeking damages. On appeal, the Supreme Court of Indonesia ruled in favor of the defendants, including Marubeni, rejecting all of the Sugar Group’s claims.
