2. Reasons for the Revision

Net profit for the six-month period ended September 30, 2021 amounted to 205.8 billion yen, showing progress being made toward the yearly forecast announced on May 6, 2021 (net profit of 230.0 billion yen) at 89%.

This is mainly due to the better-than-expected performance in the following operating segments: Metals & Mineral Resources and Energy, where commodity prices have been firm, Agri Business, which benefited from strong demand for agri-input products and higher commodity prices, and Food II, where the beef processing and sales business performed well.

The Company has revised the forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2022, based on the expectation that the commodity prices for the second half will be stronger than initially expected.

The revised forecasts for each operating segment for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2022, and the assumptions of Major Markets are as follows.
