1. Qualitative Information on Consolidated Financial Results for the Quarter under Review

(1) Qualitative information on consolidated business results

An overview of the economic environment during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 revealed that the momentum of the global economic recovery remained weak on the whole. This was as a result of the economic downturn in Europe caused by the debt issue and fiscal austerity measures implemented by governments of emerging countries in the past. In the meantime, the commodity market weakened through the middle of the year due to factors such as a slowdown of the global economy, but subsequently rebounded on the strength of receding risk-averse sentiment in the market. However, it gradually declined again through the latter half of the year.

The U.S. economy slowed down mainly in terms of production and employment through the middle of the year. However, it showed signs of a rebound in the latter half of the year as a result of a recovery in the household sector mainly in sales of automobiles and housing.

The European economy calmed down slightly as a result of the introduction of measures to stabilize financial and capital markets such as moves toward integration of banking supervision in the European and announcement of a new government-bond-purchase program by the European Central Bank. In the meantime, production activities continued to slacken mainly in Greece, Spain and other European countries which were obliged to implement a tight monetary policy, and the European economy was stagnant on the whole.

In Asia, the economy maintained robust growth supported by domestic demand. However, the pace of economic growth decelerated due to factors such as a slowing of the global economy and the fiscal austerity measures implemented by governments of Asian countries in the past. In the meantime, the economy showed signs of picking up through the latter half of the year as indicated by an improvement in investment and other economic indicators of China.

The Japanese economy had been shored up by demand for reconstruction and stimulus policies such as the eco-car subsidy program. However, the economy weakened against the backdrop of a decline in consumption in reaction to the termination of the subsidy program and sluggish exports.

Under the aforementioned business environment, consolidated financial results and significant factors for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 were as follows:

(millions of yen)

			(Hillions of yell)
	Nine months ended December 31, 2012	Nine months ended December 31, 2011	Variance
Total volume of trading transactions	7,697,794	7,652,762	45,032
Gross trading profit	388,405	404,101	(15,696)
Operating profit	95,646	125,979	(30,333)

Net income attributable to Marubeni Corp.	152,450	141,253	11,197
Revenues	3,603,414	3,239,642	363,772

The consolidated total volume of trading transactions during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 grew 45.0 billion yen (0.6%) from the year-earlier period to 7,697.8 billion yen, due primarily to increases in transaction volumes in the grain, oil trading and LNG fields. Gross trading profit fell 15.7 billion yen (3.9%) year-on-year to 388.4 billion yen chiefly because profits declined in the Power Projects and Infrastructure, Metals & Mineral Resources and Food segments, and operating profit stood at 95.6 billion yen, a decrease of 30.3 billion yen (24.1%) year-on-year. Net income attributable to Marubeni for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 (hereinafter referred to as "net income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012") rose 11.2 billion yen (7.9%) year-on-year to 152.5 billion yen, reflecting increased equity in earnings of affiliates in the copper business in Chile, a rise in gains on investment securities and an improvement in foreign exchange gains (losses). Marubeni is making steady progress toward fulfilling the target of a consolidated net income of 200.0 billion yen for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2013, which was established in the medium-term management plan titled SG-12, with 76.2 % achieved as of the end of the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012.

Meanwhile, "Revenue" as defined under U.S. GAAP was 3,603.4 billion yen, an increase of 363.8 billion yen (11.2%) from the year-earlier period.

Financial results for each operating segment and significant factors for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 were as follows:

Food:

(millions of yen)

	Nine-month period	Variance
	2012	2011	Variance
Total volume of trading transactions	1,674,025	1,515,860	158,165

Equity in earnings of affiliates	43	1,212	(1,169)
Net income attributable to Marubeni Corp.	3,907	14,947	(11,040)

The total volume of trading transactions during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 increased 158.2 billion yen (10.4%) from the year-earlier period to 1,674.0 billion yen. This was mainly due to rises in the volume of grains transactions and the sales prices of grains handled by the parent company. Gross trading profit declined 6.6 billion yen (8.2%) year-on-year to 74.7 billion yen, reflecting decreased profits from the food-materials-related business. Operating profit dropped 11.0 billion yen (44.7%) year-on-year to 13.6 billion yen. In addition, equity in earnings of affiliates declined. Consequently, net income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 decreased 11.0 billion yen (73.9%) from the year-earlier period to 3.9 billion yen.

Lifestyle:

(millions of yen)

	Nine-month period	Variance

Net income attributable to Marubeni Corp.	4,942	4,200	742

The total volume of trading transactions declined 15.2 billion yen (4.9%) from the year-earlier period to 294.7 billion yen mainly because sales prices of natural rubber fell at operating companies (Marubeni International Commodities (Singapore) and UNIMAC Rubber). Gross trading profit increased 0.1 billion yen (0.4%) year-on-year to 23.4 billion yen while operating profit fell 0.1 billion yen (1.1%) year-on-year to 7.6 billion yen due to increased expenses. Equity in earnings of affiliates dropped 0.1 billion yen (28.8%) year-on-year to 0.3 billion yen, reflecting decreased profits in the tire sales company in Europe. Net income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 grew 0.7 billion yen (17.7%) year-on-year to 4.9 billion yen as a result of the absence of an impairment loss on listed securities that was recorded in the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year, and posting of a gain on sales of listed securities during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012.

In December 2012, Marubeni acquired a stake in All-State Belting, LLC, a conveyor belt distributor in the U.S. Combined with transactions handled by Belterra, which has been a Marubeni wholly-owned Canadian belt distribution company since 2007, the Marubeni Group's transactions of conveyor belts in the North America have reached the top level in the industry as a result. Marubeni will continue to aim at increasing its market share in this field, in addition to further reinforcing the value chain from the upstream to the downstream processes in the rubber field.

Equity in losses (earnings) of affiliates	(10)	910	(920)
Net loss (income) attributable to Marubeni Corp.	(106)	4,207	(4,313)

The total volume of trading transactions amounted to 369.1 billion yen, a decline of 26.6 billion yen (6.7%) from the year-earlier period, resulting mainly from decreases in the sales price of pulp and the transaction volume of wood chips. Gross trading profit fell 2.6 billion yen (11.1%) year-on-year to 20.8 billion yen, due primarily to decreased profits in the paper and paperboard field and deterioration in profit from wood-chip-related transactions. Operating profit dropped 2.9 billion yen (43.3%) year-on-year to 3.8 billion yen. Equity in earnings of affiliates declined 0.9 billion yen (-%), due mainly to a decrease in profit at Daishowa-Marubeni International Ltd. as a result of the falling sales price of pulp. In addition, we posted an impairment loss on listed securities. Consequently, net loss for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 amounted to 0.1 billion yen, a deterioration of 4.3 billion yen (-%) from the year-earlier period.

During the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012, in the paper and paperboard field, for the purpose of starting a corrugated container business in India, Marubeni accepted the allocation of new shares to a third party by an Indian subsidiary of Oji Holdings Corporation ("Oji"), Oji India Packaging Pvt. Ltd.("Oji India Packaging")* along with JK Paper Ltd. ("JK"), which is a leading manufacturer of pulp and paper in India and reached an agreement to start a joint venture to be formed by Oji, JK and Marubeni. This joint venture will form a strong foothold for Marubeni to expand its paper and paperboard business in India.

*Oji India Packaging Pvt. Ltd. is scheduled to change its name to Oji JK Packaging Private Ltd. after the joint venture starts operating.

The total volume of trading transactions stood at 720.4 billion yen, a decrease of 12.4 billion yen (1.7%) from the year-earlier period. This was chiefly due to a decrease in the volume of transactions for LCD panel production equipment for China and fall in the vinyl chloride product market. Gross trading profit grew 0.9 billion yen (4.7%) year-on-year to 20.3 billion yen as a result mainly of an improvement in the profitability of petrochemical products and increased profits at the agricultural chemicals sales company in Europe. Equity in earnings of affiliates shrank 2.6 billion yen (65.2%) year-on-year to 1.4 billion yen, due primarily to a deterioration in profits at the overseas synthetic rubber manufacturing and sales company. The total volume of trading transactions amounted to 2,369.6 billion yen, a growth of 246.5 billion yen (11.6%) from the year-earlier period, due mainly to increases in the volume of transactions in the oil trading field and in import sales in the LNG field. Gross trading profit declined 4.3 billion yen (9.2%) year-on-year to 41.9 billion yen primarily because profits in the oil and gas development field shrank. Operating profit dropped 5.2 billion yen (19.3%) year-on-year to 21.6 billion yen. With the fall in operating profit, net income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 decreased 3.3 billion yen (9.6%) from the year-earlier period to 31.0 billion yen.

During the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012, Marubeni decided to launch a mega-solar power business by constructing a large-scale solar power plant with a generation capacity of 81.5 MW at the coastal industrial area of Oita No. 6. Marubeni started plant construction in November 2012, with completion and start-up of the plant targeted for March 2014.

The total volume of trading transactions stood at 591.9 billion yen, a decrease of 111.8 billion yen (15.9%) from the year-earlier period, reflecting falls in prices of steel raw materials and non-ferrous and light metals. Gross trading profit declined 8.0 billion yen (34.9%) year-on-year to 14.9 billion yen, due mainly to drops in prices of steel raw materials and light metals. Operating profit shrank 8.4 billion yen (69.7%) year-on-year to 3.6 billion yen. Equity in earnings of affiliates declined 0.4 billion yen (1.2%) year-on-year to 29.4 billion yen as a result of decreased profits from the overseas coal businesses and at Marubeni-Itochu Steel Inc., although profits from the copper business in Chile increased. There was an increase in gains on investment securities. Consequently, net income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 rose 6.5 billion yen (19.4%) from the year-earlier period to 39.8 billion yen.

The total volume of trading transactions stood at 447.8 billion yen, a decline of 119.7 billion yen (21.1%) from the year-earlier period, due to a decrease in transaction volume in the aircraft-related operations and a fall in the volume of ship-related transactions. Gross trading profit grew 3.1 billion yen (9.8%) year-on-year to 35.2 billion yen as a result of new consolidation of operations related to construction machinery and agricultural machinery. Operating profit rose 0.9 billion yen (12.5%) year-on-year to 8.0 billion yen. Equity in earnings of affiliates increased 4.0 billion yen (64.9%) year-on-year to 10.2 billion yen, due to contributions from the LNG carrier business and U.S. automotive retail finance business. Consequently, net income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 grew 7.6 billion yen (70.3%) from the year-earlier period to 18.5 billion yen.

Power Projects and Infrastructure:

(millions of yen)

	Nine-month period	Nine-month period ended December 31,
	2012	2011	Variance

Equity in earnings of affiliates	21,420	16,714	4,706
Net income attributable to Marubeni Corp.	20,269	18,560	1,709

The total volume of trading transactions amounted to 263.4 billion yen, a decrease of 17.5 billion yen (6.2%) from the year-earlier period. This was mainly due to the effect of converting a vertically integrated power business in the Caribbean region into an affiliate, despite increased transactions at the parent company from the expansion project for the Chana Combined Cycle Power Plant Block 2 and the Wang Noi Combined Cycle Power Plant Block 4 in Thailand. Gross trading profit declined 10.7 billion yen (38.5%) year-on-year to 17.1 billion yen, due mainly to the above-mentioned conversion of the Caribbean business into an affiliate. Operating profit deteriorated 8.4 billion yen (-%) year-on-year to 0.7 billion yen (loss). Equity in earnings of affiliates grew 4.7 billion yen (28.2%) year-on-year to 21.4 billion yen, due chiefly to increased profits from TeaM Energy in Philippines, the Paiton2 project in Indonesia and the Aguas Nuevas project in Chile. Net income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 stood at 20.3 billion yen, an increase of 1.7 billion yen (9.2%) from the year-earlier period, due mainly to easing of the income tax burden.

During the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012, Marubeni made progress in the power projects and infrastructure segment. In the overseas power plant business field, for instance, Marubeni acquired an economic interest in the Lakefield Wind Project, a wind power generation project owned by a renewable energy company in the North American market owned by the major French utility Electricité de France ("EDF"), and entered into a long-term power purchase agreement for the Rantau Dedap geothermal project in Indonesia. In the field of overseas power engineering, procurement and construction (EPC), Marubeni was awarded a contract for construction of the Bibiyana Gas Based Combined Cycle Power Plant in Bangladesh and received an order for rehabilitation of a gas turbine combined cycle power generation station from the state-owned power company in India. In the water business field, Marubeni decided to participate in the water and wastewater business in metropolitan Manila. Marubeni will further strive to make social contributions in the field of public works projects both in Japan and internationally, while continuing with proactive business development to expand its stable profit base.

Plant & Industrial Machinery:

(millions of yen)

	Nine-month period	Nine-month period ended December 31,
	2012	2011	Variance
Total volume of trading transactions	218,781	309,387	(90,606)
Gross trading profit	18,735	17,126	1,609
Operating profit	959	1,427	(468)
Equity in earnings of affiliates	1,786	2,077	(291)
Net income attributable to Marubeni Corp.	4,538	2,359	2,179

The total volume of trading transactions amounted to 218.8 billion yen, a decline of 90.6 billion yen (29.3%) from the year-earlier period. This was mainly due to decreased transaction volumes for the energy and chemical plant projects in China and Southeast Asia and at Marubeni Tekmatex Corporation, which deals in textile machinery, and Marubeni Techno-Systems Corp., which handles industrial machinery, although the transaction volume for the textile factory rehabilitation project in Angola increased. Despite the decrease in transactions, gross trading profit increased 1.6 billion yen (9.4%) year-on-year to 18.7 billion yen, reflecting increased profits from the project in Angola. Operating profit fell 0.5 billion yen (32.8%) year-on-year to 1.0 billion yen as a result mainly of the absence of a reversal of allowance for doubtful accounts that was recorded in the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year following collection of debt associated with overseas construction projects. Equity in earnings of affiliates declined while there was an increase in gain/loss on investment securities. Consequently, net income for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2012 rose 2.2 billion yen (92.4%) from the year-earlier period to 4.5 billion yen.

Marubeni received orders by the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2012 for projects including the textile factory rehabilitation project in Angola and pulp manufacturing facilities project in Southeast Asia. We have smoothly implemented contracts for these projects and they have contributed to earnings for the nine-month ended December 31, 2012. Marubeni also received an order from Venezuelan State Railways to supply additional train sets, and was awarded a project to supply facilities to purify groundwater in coal mines in the Ukraine and a project to boost power supply capacity in the metropolitan area of Palau. Marubeni will continue to steadily execute projects for which it has already received orders and manages and operates business projects. In addition, we will focus our efforts on taking orders for new plant projects, participating in new businesses and accumulating excellent assets.

Gross trading profit grew 1.4 billion yen (4.5%) year-on-year to 32.1 billion yen mainly because profits increased smoothly at existing operating companies and performance fees from investment funds increased in the finance operations. Operating profit rose 0.5 billion yen (21.3%) year-on-year to 3.1 billion yen. Equity in earnings of affiliates improved 4.4 billion yen (-%) year-on-year to 3.6 billion yen chiefly because profits increased as ACR Capital Holdings Pte. Equity grew 119.7 billion yen from the end of the previous fiscal year to 1,035.4 billion yen, reflecting our accumulation of profit and improvement in currency translation adjustments, despite a deterioration in unrealized gains (losses) on investment securities.
